Curriculum Business Studies

(Secondary Course)

1. Rationale

We all live in a very vast and complex business environment. Whether we are poor or rich, the business activities around us have made our lives easy by fulfilling our basic needs and also improving our standard of living. We may recall the types and practices of business in the past and compare with the practices of today. Today's business activities are changing at a faster speed because of the advancement of science and technology and better communication system. Modern methods of production and distribution have made today's business world a global market. The goods and services produced in one country are now readily available in other counties. Scientific management, use of advanced information and communication technology, readily available finance and insurance provide greater relief to the complexity of business activities. Thus, the need of the hour is to enable our learners to look into and interact with the modern business environment that affects their everyday life. To be acquainted with some elementary knowledge about the world of business, a course on Business Studies should be very useful at the secondary level.
